This documentary is about the dedication and passion of two underdogs attaining the quintessence in their sport. It is about a simple man who was able to accomplish what was not to be. It is about how life took away the dream of that man and how he was able to rebuild it. And how, at 74, he is still following his passion. This is the story of Yves Landry and his passion for horses. Among them, his best partner ever named Boucane. Following Yves and his partner and wife Lysel Landry was the best way to learn about their own story and witness their unbroken passion. We are following the horseman, learning about his ways with those amazing thoroughbreds of his own herd on there farm, one of the best three day event center in Canada. Through the years, with their own hands, they build that farm from scratch. We are discovering also why at 74, Yves is still today a passionate rider, a fierce competitor in the filed of Three Day Eventing.
