Our story begins when the Ant recognises the need to fall in love. Though theoretically easy, it actually appears nearly impossible.

The Ant lives in an anthill which, actually, could be any typical metropolis – as the Ant could be any typical well-educated and ambitious, young woman. She works for a corporation, goes to a beautician, attends yoga classes, watches TV, reads tabloids and is trying to lose some fictitious weight. She dreams of being a successful woman: independent, professionally fulfilled, beautiful and happy. Unwittingly, however, she craves for great love, maybe even kids and a family...
