At the beginning of the 20th century, an expedition leaves for the jungles of South America, with the hope of finding "The Lost World", hidden on a remote plateau. There, the Expedition finds itself trapped in a world of breathtaking beauty, inhabited by the Ayara, ancient descendants of the Incas.

Everyday, the Expedition searches for a way to get off the Plateau, as it struggles to survive in a world inhabited by live dinosaurs, prehistoric ape-men and nature at its most powerful.
