Kristal Hasting is a young YouTube influencer and beauty vlogger. She's fun, charming, resourceful, and all about keeping up appearances. Kristal is estranged from her identical twin sister, KYLE, a brilliant PhD student and budding young physicist. Kyle is dry and sarcastic and isn't afraid to call Kristal on her BS. Though it's like looking in a mirror, the twins couldn't be more different. While Kyle looks into a possible cure, Kristal's priority is her social media image. The last thing she wants is for people to find out she's contracted some strange invisibility curse. She has a life to protect - vlog, reputation, fiancé, frenemies, and followers. Which means that Kyle has to come out of her shell and step into Kristal's shoes from time to time. Meanwhile, Kristal will learn who truly SEES her - resulting in situations both honest and hilarious. Things eventually take a more serious turn, when Kyle discovers there may be dire consequences if Kristal remains invisible. Will the sisters come together and save the day— or will Kristal fade away entirely?
