The vibrant Schelby Jean-Baptiste crashes the most beautiful parties in the world and explores cultures that are as vibrant as they are unique. From the frenzy of the Carnival of Recife and Olinda in Brazil to the electric energy of Sydney's Mardi Gras, and the spirituality of the Viking Midgardsblot festival in Norway, each episode invites us to discover how dances, music, and rituals weave connections between communities and celebrate deep cultural identities. Through her encounters and discoveries, Schelby shows how these events embody an essential means of preserving and transmitting stories, values, and collective aspirations, all while adopting an anthropological perspective. Whether it's on the shores of Lake Malawi with Lake of Stars or at the heart of the Rocket Festival in Thailand, these celebrations are primarily vehicles for social connection and sharing, highlighting the human dynamics that shape societies. Each destination offers a new explosion of collective joy, proving that all around the globe, celebration is a vital force, a universal ritual that brings people together and creates unforgettable moments.
