

Where's the Craic?

NOUVEAUTÉS

On the west coast of Ireland lies Ireland's best kept secret... The town of Sligo is one of the loveliest places on earth, and has more live music than anywhere else in the country. That's saying something. Perhaps it's something even more intrinsic in the culture that gives rise to this remarkable gift. "Where's the Craic?" is a beautiful documentary about the spirit of the place, tremendous joy of life, traditional music and local pubs in a small town in Ireland.
