

PRESS RELEASE

HG DISTRIBUTION: TREK AND SCIENCE & VIE TV ACQUIRE NEW PROGRAMS

Montreal, June 17, 2026 - HG Distribution is pleased to announce the acquisition of two of its programs by TREK and SCIENCE & VIE TV, two channels belonging to the Mediawan Thematics group, a European partner for more than 10 years. Following the success of the first season of the documentary series Expedition Kayak, the second season has been available on the TREK channel since June 1, 2026. The documentary Anomaly Detection will be broadcast in November on SCIENCE & VIE TV.

Expedition Kayak: Adrenaline in its Purest Form

The documentary series Expedition Kayak takes viewers into the incredible adventures of the world's best kayakers. Across 20 episodes of 60 minutes each, the members of Quebec Connection prove they are fearless on Canada's most extreme rivers, from the Côte-Nord to the Chic-Chocs, through British Columbia and New Brunswick. They take on rapids and wilderness, combining adventure, skill and discovery while revealing hidden territories.

Anomaly Detection: When AI Detects the Impossible

This 70-minute documentary immerses us in the heart of CERN in Geneva, where physicists led by Maurizio Pierini are developing the first artificial intelligence capable of detecting anomalies among 40 million LHC collisions per second. The groundbreaking work of these experts presented in Anomaly Detection could transform the discovery of new physics, revealing the intersection of science, AI and human ingenuity.

About HG Distribution

For nearly two decades, HG Distribution has established itself as a trusted partner for independent producers, orchestrating the international distribution of premium content to broadcasters and platforms worldwide. Our expertise is built on a tailored approach that places each client's specific needs at the heart of our strategy. This philosophy has earned us the trust of over 100 producers who have chosen us to bring their works to international audiences.

About Trek

Trek, Mediawan Thematics' outdoor sports channel, offers a selection of documentaries that inspire adventure and escape. Climbing, trail running, mountain biking, skiing, surfing, mountaineering, and base jumping, the channel caters to all thrill-seekers and outdoor enthusiasts. Trek is available through Free, Bouygues Telecom, SFR, Bis, and Molotov.

About Science & Vie TV

Published by Mediawan Thematics, Science & Vie TV is the result of a collaboration with Science & Vie magazine, a leading reference for science and technology enthusiasts. Through original and exclusive programming, the channel takes part in this great adventure by exploring today's world and imagining tomorrow's.

Media Contact

Sylvie Adamovicz
Marketing Director
sylvie@hgagnondistribution.com
514 531-5525

